— IVY R. TAYLOR — MAYOR

As Mayor of San Antonio, I am proud that each year thousands of people join the City of San Antonio in its commemoration of the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Each January, record numbers of participants gather to march and reflect on the lasting impact Dr. King has had on various communities and among several generations. It is certainly a testament to the importance of Dr. King's teachings and as to why, today, we continue to honor this notable civil rights leader and historical figure.

In 2015, the City of San Antonio Martin Luther King, Jr. March and Commemoration celebrates its 28TH anniversary as a City-sponsored event. In 1987, the San Antonio Martin Luther King, Jr. Commission held the first City of San Antonio-sponsored Martin Luther King, Jr. March. Since then, as part of its annual commemoration, the City of San Antonio hosts a series of events that culminates with one of the nation's largest Martin Luther King, Jr. marches that includes approximately 150,000 participants. San Antonio has been honored to welcome some notable past guests throughout the years who have participated in the local commemoration including Martin Luther King, III; Ilyasah Shabazz; Dr. Michael Eric Dyson; and Dr. Julianne Malveaux, to name only a few.

Also as part of its celebration and focus on youth, the San Antonio MLK, Jr. Commission administers a Martin Luther King Jr. Scholarship Program. These scholarships help to fund a portion of the college tuition of deserving local students, regardless of race or ethnicity.

I personally invite all residents of San Antonio and guests from throughout the country to attend the City of San Antonio's commemoration of Martin Luther King, Jr. this year. My hope is that through these series of events – including a lecture series, a youth empowerment summit, faith services, volunteer activities, special remembrance ceremonies and much more – all participants will understand and continue to promote the beliefs of Dr. King: the spirit of human equality, the principles of nonviolence, racial harmony, and the importance of goodwill among citizens. This commemoration offers an opportunity of reflection and community building – for all generations.

Sincerely,

The Honorable Ivy R. Taylor
Mayor of San Antonio

— ALAN E. WARRICK, II — DISTRICT 2 CITY COUNCIL MEMBER

It is an absolute honor to welcome you to the 28th Annual San Antonio Martin Luther King, Jr. March. The San Antonio march is one of the nation's largest commemorations of Dr. King's legacy and dream of equality and justice for all, and your participation demonstrates your commitment to continuing this important legacy.

Our 2015 March theme, "Marching Together From Past To Present For Our Future," reminds us that we must remember the sacrifices that our ancestors made in order to give us the freedoms we have today. But in light of the recent events across the country, there is still much work to be done for us to have the democracy Dr. King envisioned.

I would like to thank the 2015 MLK Commission for all of their diligent work in making the MLK March and all of its events a success. The MLK Commission and I are also truly grateful to all of our sponsors for their continued support in making this march a success. I'd also like to thank the large number of City staff members that were vital to the success of all the events.

Finally, none of this would be possible without the support of the community. I want to thank each and every one of you for your participation in the 2015 MLK March and commemorative events today. Your presence keeps Dr. King's dream alive, and keeps building on the progress needed so that future generations can fulfill Dr. King's dream of equality and justice for all.

Sincerely,

Alan E. Warrick, II
District 2 City Councilman
Martin Luther King, Jr. Commission Honorary Chair

— DAVID M. COPELAND — MLK COMMISSION CHAIR

"Never criticize a man until you've walked a mile in his moccasins." - American Indian Proverb. The earliest record of this proverb has its origin to the Cherokee tribe of Native Americans. In "To Kill a Mockingbird," Atticus, a white lawyer, who has chosen to defend a black man accused of raping a white girl, is trying to explain to his daughter Scout why he is doing so. "First of all," he said, "if you can learn a simple trick, Scout, you'll get along a lot better with all kinds of folks. You never really understand a person until you consider things from his point of view [...] until you climb into his skin and walk around in it." Don't judge someone until you've walked a mile in their shoes.

"No puedes conocer a un hombre, hasta que no has pasado por lo mismo que él" or "hasta que no has estado en su piel" "hasta que no has estado en su pellejo."

Is it possible that our nation may be forgetting that the non-violent protests and civil disobedience of the 60's caused many crisis situations where the federal government had to take action in an effort to uphold the dignity of all Americans? It was only after years of highly publicized civil rights demonstrations, marches, and violence that American political leaders acted to enforce these rights. At the end of the Montgomery bus boycott in 1956, Martin Luther King, Jr. - only two years out of divinity school - declared that their common goal was not simply the end of segregation as an institution. Rather, "the end is reconciliation, the end is redemption, and the end is the creation of the beloved community."

King's Beloved Community called for change. So it is the desire of the Martin Luther King Jr. Commission to help us understand what is the true meaning of a Beloved Community. We are working toward a common purpose and goal. It is the articulation of an inclusive human community, which includes "equality of opportunity, privilege and property" ...not allowing the color of one's skin to hinder anyone's estimation of the content of one's character. It is living in intentional relationships with those around us, being accepting - and working towards the common good of all. Our mission is to saturate our community with the hope that there can be a Beloved Community, which many have never expected nor experienced. To achieve this the Martin Luther King Commission continues to seek to partner with corporations, businesses, and individual donors - in order to open the door of education to as many young people in our city, region and world as possible. We, in San Antonio, Texas, CONTINUE TO MARCH, WE CONTINUE TO SUPPORT SCHOLARSHIPS because in the words of Travon's mother, Sybrina Fulton, "My message to you is: Please use my story. Please use my tragedy. Please use my broken heart to say to yourself, we cannot let this happen to anybody else's child." Walk a mile in my shoes, walk a mile in my shoes Oh, before you abuse, criticize and accuse, walk a mile in my shoes..."

Sincerely,

David M. Copeland

— ERIC CARRINGTON — COMMEMORATIVE SPECIAL GUEST ARTIST

Eric Carrington is back with this first single, "Reign," from his fifth release T.E.C.P. Vol. 2 "Amplified Prayze." This time around he wants you to give God the largest praise that you can give.

Undeniably, Carrington is a breakthrough artist. His fifth release coming soon with Divine Line records, "Amplified Prayze," is categorically what contemporary, praise and worship Gospel is all about. This being his fifth project, deals with prayze that you should give unto God because of the grace that he gives to us on a daily basis.

His fourth release T.E.C.P. Vol. 1 "Relationship," is an indication of where Carrington is as a man and as an artist. "Relationship" was not about the typical Eros type of love relationship. Instead, he is talking about the Agape love relationship between an individual and Christ.

Carrington, born and raised in Houston, was another Gospel child prodigy, as a minister of music. As an act of obedience to his father, Rev. James Carrington, Jr., past of the Willing Workers Baptist Church in Houston, Eric discovered that God had gifted him byond his years. At the tender age of 13, his father instructed him to get on the organ and play one Sunday and the rest is history. That day, Eric found his calling and knew that music was his ministry. In 1992, Eric took the next step toward developing his gifts with the release of his first project, "Calvary." Although this project did not earn him national recognition, it cause the local market to take a second look.

In 1996, Eric followed up with this second project, "God Said It," and this was the introduction of Eric's signature style. This project announced to the world that a genius was born. Eric has a unique ability to turn traditional gospel music into melodic tunes for the urban gospel contemporary audience. In 1999, he followed up with the release of his third project, "Soar." This project featured his hit song, "Anointing."

— EUGENE COLEMAN — 2014 MLK DISTINGUISHED ACHIEVEMENT HONOREE

Eugene Coleman is a nationally acclaimed photographer, civil rights advocate, entrepreneur, gifted recording artist, a well known advocate for job training programs and recipient of numerous distinguished local and national awards. SNAP News, a weekly publication was co-founded by Eugene Coleman, G.J. Sutton and Rev. Claude W. Black. The SNAP News covered news not being picked up by mainstream San Antonio’s daily papers. The SNAP covered San Antonio politics, social events and current events from the African-American perspective. At one point, the threats of violence were received by some SNAP employees lead Mr. Coleman to hire a personal bodyguard.

At the time of the founding SNAP News, Mr. Coleman, a World War II Air Force veteran was operating the only black photography studio in San Antonio located in what is now the Historical St. Paul Square. When advertisers began boycotting SNAP News because the paper served as a voice for civil and human justice, he reached out to the community hosting fundraising activities and supplemented sales with selling competitions among local school children. When problems arose with printers, SNAP News purchased their own printing press to ensure continued publication.

As a civil rights and human justice pioneer, Mr. Coleman was at the forefront of local and national voter registration campaigns. He worked tirelessly with the promotion of local job training and workforce development programs. He established Project A.B.L.E. and served on the founding board of Bexar County Opportunities Industrialization Center, Inc. (BCOIC). Both Project A.B.L.E and BCOIC were instrumental in training and providing jobs for economically disadvantaged area youth and adults. Mr. Coleman was also advocated establishing the Miss Black San Antonio Contest and Pageant and assisted the Queen of Soul Pageant. Both organizations provided scholarships to young ladies and afforded them an opportunity to officially participate in the city of San Antonio’s Fiesta activities.

Mr. Coleman is a longtime member of Mount Zion First Baptist Church where he has served in many capacities and ministries over the years. Mr. Coleman is a San Antonio living legend.

— DR. JOHN ABDO — 2014 BAHÁ'Í UNITY HONOREE

Dr. John Abdo attended San Antonio College and St. Mary’s University in San Antonio, Texas. In 1980, he received a Master of Science degree from Clayton University in St. Louis, Missouri and in 1981 a Ph.D., in Preventative and Therapeutic Applied Clinical Nutrition from the Roger J. Williams Graduate School of Nutrition. As a member of the American Council of Applied Clinical Nutrition, his career in Naturopathic Medicine spans now to 43 years, utilizing a natural healing and preventative approach to wellness in consultation of treatments in the city of San Antonio.

He began serving as a member of the Martin Luther King Jr. Commission and 1993, devoting his time to the coordinating of the MLK Interfaith Committee. The MLK Interfaith committee is focused on celebrating the life of Martin Luther King, Jr., a great man of God who sacrificed his life so that many people of all ethnicities would one day have the same opportunities for dignity and prosperity. Secondly, the committee’s purpose is to foster a genuine and sincere dialogue between all of the major faiths as well as ethnicities and cultures in the city of San Antonio. The intent is to overcome any and all barriers that separate people from each other or make one culture or group feel superior to another because of religion, ethnicity, or culture. This journey resulted in a citywide interfaith service that has been witnessed by thousands of people in the last 27 years, in which Dr. Abdo chairs the committee.

Over the many years, Dr. John Abdo brought together people from all faiths and backgrounds with his work on the Interfaith programming. He has shown a spirit of humility, manifesting tolerance towards those of different cultures and faith. In this day of severe polarization of religion, races, economic status, and culture, it is rare and unique to find a human soul that transcends these manmade barriers. Such a person as Dr. Abdo has illuminated visions of a new horizon of love, peace, and genuine fellowship.

The Martin Luther King, Jr. service has been a great example of different religions, cultures, and races coming together in a true spirit of unity and servitude. Dr. Abdo readily proclaims that the interfaith service has been exemplary in overcoming centuries of prejudices and polarizations that have separated people from each other and furthermore, it has been a sorely needed salve for the wounds and misguided world perceptions that have created enmity instead of love and unity.

THE REV. C.A. CALLIES, SR. COURAGE AWARD

The Rev. C.A. Callies, Sr. Courage Award is given each year to an individual(s) who has exhibited significant courage in the face of tremendous odds. The physical award is a medal engraved with Rev. C.A. Callies, Sr. image.

Rev. Callies was born in El Campo, Texas. He attended Arkansas Agricultural, Mechanical and Normal College where he received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Education. He then went on to receive a Master’s Degree at Southwest Texas College. Rev. Callies was employed with the San Antonio Independent School District for more than 30 years where he taught math, history and industrial arts. He was also a pastor at First Gethsemane Baptist Church for more than 30 years. He was the founder and organizer of Youth Leadership Conference for Community Progress which was instrumental in getting traffic lights at busy intersections and improving drainage for the Eastside. One of Rev. Callies’ greatest accomplishments was the organization of the Martin Luther King, Jr. Plaza where he and his organization raised money to have a statue of Dr. King and the Monument of Brotherhood erected on the Plaza site. His tireless efforts and dedi
